Returns received by the Republic from all but ten counties of the state, including unofficial figures from the city of St. Louis and Kansas City, apparently confirm the belief of many that the entire Republican state ticket was successful last Tuesday. The margins are so close, however, that the official count will be necessary definitely to decide the result.

The Republic—the only paper in the state that has attempted to gather the figures—has received reports from twenty-two more counties than has Secretary of State Cornelius Roach. He will not begin the official count until complete returns reach his office in Jefferson City from all the counties.

The counties missing from the Republic's state table do not hold out much hope for any of the Democratic nominees. They are Atchison, Barry, Christian, Hickory, Holt, McDonald, Miller, Oregon and Scott.

As indicated by the early returns, Howard A. Gass, Democratic nominee for state superintendent of public schools, topped his ticket. The returns received, however, show him 714 behind William Evans his Republican opponent. Taking the complete Brown-Gantt vote as a basis, the missing counties will increase Evans' lead to 2,738.

Revised figures caused only slight changes in the Gantt-Brown contest for the long term on the supreme bench. Brown's advantage is now 2,495. Excepting only Evans, Judge Brown will be low man on the Republican ticket.

Kennish Leads Ticket.

Judge John Kennish, Republican nominee for the short term on the supreme bench, is shown by the nearly complete returns to have run ahead of the other Republican candidates. With ten counties missing he is leading Judge Henry C. Timmonds of Kansas City by 4,802.

Captain Thomas M. Bradbury, Democratic aspirant for railroad and warehouse commissioner, made a better showing than the early returns indicated against Frank Wightman. Wightman, with ten counties missing, has 2,955 votes more than Bradbury.

Eleven outstanding counties prevent the completion of the United States senatorial table. James A. Reed, according to the incomplete figures, leads former Governor David R. Francis by 27,148.

According to advices from Jefferson

City some of the big counties of the state are among those that have not sent returns to the secretary of state. Besides St. Louis and Kansas City they include Buchanan, Franklin, Greene, Henry, Jasper, Lafayette, Marion, Pettis, Adair, Barton, Butler, Carroll, Clay, Daviess, Douglas, Gasconade, Henry, Howell, Iron, Jefferson, Lawrence, Linn, Madison, Maries, Montgomery, Morgan, Polk, Sullivan, Washington, Webster and Worth. In all, eighty-two counties had filed their returns with Secretary Roach last night.

Two years ago three days and a part of two nights were spent in completing the official tabulation of the vote of the state. Then, as now, the vote on some of the state candidates was very close and the totals were not taken on the returns until all the precincts had been footed so as to catch errors in the footings.

State Secretary to Tabulate Vote.
While it has long been the custom for the secretary of state to total all the votes, yet as a matter of fact the law only requires him to tabulate the vote for judge of the supreme court and United States senator, on what is generally known as the state ticket. One set of returns goes to the speaker of the house. This will contain the vote cast for state superintendent of public schools, railroad and warehouse commissioner and also the vote cast for United States senator.

For judges of the courts of appeals, circuit judges, members of congress, the state legislature, including state senators, the vote of each county, district or city will be cast up by the secretary of state. He makes out the commissions for all these officials.

The secretary has no means of knowing just when the last of the returns will reach his office. They are presumed to be in within ten days following the election but in some instances in the past it has been necessary for the secretary to dispatch a special messenger after belated returns.

Judging by the past, the returns may all be in by the last of the week, but this is assuming that the count will progress faster in St. Louis than it has up to date.

The probability of contests over state officers will make the official tabulation of the vote of unusual importance. The secretary of state, it was announced at Jefferson City, will put a sufficient number of experts at work to see that there is no delay, and also to guarantee in advance that there will be no errors made by his department in the footings.

He cannot throw out a vote or conduct an investigation as to its accuracy if the returns are made up properly. The best he can do in the case of plain mistakes is to call upon the local officials to correct their errors. This was done two years ago in the returns from several counties where the errors were so plain that no one could be mistaken. In one of the counties a whole precinct was left out.

The legislature has the power to conduct an investigation into the vote of any locality of the state affecting the election of state officials whose returns are cast up by the joint session of the assembly. This was done two years ago in the vote for lieutenant-governor. Other contests must come through the courts.

It is not expected that any definite action will be taken by the Democrats looking toward contests until after the returns have all been filed and cast up.

REVIVAL MEETINGS CONTINUE TO GROW

The revival meetings at the First Christian church continue to be well attended and great interest is taken in them. The subject of Dr. Bricker's sermon for Monday night was "What Must I Do to Be Saved?" and he said that five things were necessary and essential for a man's salvation—bearing, believing, repentance, confession and baptism.

The Tuesday evening's sermon was on "The Conversion of Cornelius." Dr. Bricker showed that although Cornelius was a model, moral man, who gave alms and prayed daily, that was not enough. He must become obedient to the commands of Jesus Christ. At the close of the services the ordinance of baptism was administered.

Dr. Wells and Emmet Bishop of Ravenwood came to Maryville Wednesday in Dr. Wells' automobile.

A. Stitt of Burlington Junction was a city visitor Wednesday.

Frank Burg of Parnell was transacting business in the city Tuesday.

SHOWS A DECLINE

LOWER PRICES ON FOODSTUFFS OVER THE COUNTRY.

ALL PRODUCE TO DECLINE

Causes as Given By Chicago Dealers Is a Bumper Corn Crop.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—A bumper corn crop and unusually heavy receipts of cattle and pork at the stock yards are given by Chicago dealers as causes of the general decline of foodstuffs over the country. A decline in prices at the stock yards was followed by a reduction of fresh meats and staples. Commission men here today predicted lower prices still on everything except eggs, which they say are high and going higher.

The following shows some of the reductions here in the last week:

	This week.	Last week.
Sugar	5c	5½c to 6c
Flour, bbl.	$6.75	$6.90
Pork, 16c to 22c	20c to 22c
Lamb	13c	18c
Chickens	12½c	15c
Beef	10c to 18c	12c to 21c

The Market Generally Lower.

The decline since October 1 is from 50 to 75 cents on cattle in bulk, and the market in general is 50 cents lower than it was a week ago. Hogs have dropped from $9.55 a hundred weight on October 18 to $7.82½.

Miss Rose Germaine of Conception was a city visitor Wednesday.

News of Society and Women's Clubs

Post Card Shower.

Quite a number of the friends of Art Garten, the popular and gentlemanly clerk at the Linville hotel, was given a post card shower Wednesday morning. It wasn't his birthday anniversary, or anything, but was given on general principles. People sometimes think to remember those who are always kind and obliging, rain or shine. Mr. Garten's collection of cards is unique and interesting.

Will Entertain for Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. White, living northwest of Maryville, will entertain a large company of friends Wednesday night in honor of Mrs. White's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Kiesling of Havana, Ill., who are visiting them.

Mrs. F. M. Martin was hostess to the M. I. Circle Tuesday afternoon. Devotions were led by Mrs. J. E. Douglass. A paper was read by Mrs. Charles McNeal on William Ellery Channing. Mrs. J. M. Hosmer, who is visiting Dr. Mamie Coveny of Clinton, Ia., was on the program for a paper on Charles Freneau, one of the first American poets, which was prepared by her and read before the Circle by Miss Emma Shroyer; also two of his poems, "The Wild Honey-suckle" and "The Indian's Philosophy," were read by Mrs. M. M. Deming. A delinquent paper on Warrington Allston and Gilbert Stewart was read by Mrs. C. B. Roberts, who has just returned from a several weeks' visit with her son in New York City. She visited the art galleries while in that city and gave a graphic description of "The Deluge," by Allston, and of paintings of Washington, by Stewart, and also told of pictures she saw by Benjamin West, the teacher of Allston and Gilbert. Mrs. W. A. Bailey conducted a very interesting geographical drill. Mrs. William Funk acted as critic, instead of Mrs. B. C. Halley, who was unable to be present. Current events were the answers to roll call. The next meeting of the Circle will be held with Mrs. J. E. Melvin.

A MOON ECLIPSE THIS EVENING

A total eclipse of the moon that will last for fifty-two minutes will occur late today. At 5:50 o'clock it will be total. The shadow will leave the moon at 6:47 o'clock. Total eclipses of the moon come about twice a year. They are caused by the earth coming between the sun and the moon in such a way as to shut off entirely the sun's light from the moon. The earth's shadow, scientifically speaking, is called the umbra. It is the umbra that blanks the moon as a source of illumination. Eclipses of the moon last ordinarily from two to three hours.

DR. FORD'S SON WILL GO TO THE PANAMA

Wesley Ford of Kansas City, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Ford of the First Methodist Episcopal church, came to Maryville Tuesday night and visited his parents until Tuesday night. He will leave Kansas City Thursday for Panama, sailing from New Orleans Saturday on the steamer Abangarez. Mr. Ford has been employed by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company of Kansas City for some time and will be similarly employed in Panama.

The Miller family is rejoicing over the advent of this son, who is named Frank Miller, Jr., as four little daughters have preceded him. Mr. and Mrs. Miller formerly lived in Maryville, and have many old friends here who will be glad to learn of their good fortune. Mrs. Miller was Miss Emma Peden of Fairfax. They moved to Oklahoma City quite recently from Hydro, Okla., where they moved some twelve years ago from Maryville.

CLARENCE EDDY TO BE HERE JAN. 20

The date of the appearance at the Christian church here of Clarence Eddy, the world's greatest pipe organist, has been set for January 20th. An opportunity to hear such a master of the "king of instruments" will probably never occur again, as Mr. Eddy makes few American tours, his time being nearly all taken by the great cities of Europe.

While his regular program is made up of only the greatest creations in the world of music, he has promised to give just as many popular selections as the audience wishes to call for on encore. Remember the date, January 20th, 1911.

Miss Mae Corwin left Wednesday noon for Columbia, where she will spend a week with friends. During Thanksgiving week she will be a house party guest of Miss Madge Boyd of Kansas City, who will entertain several other state university friends. CHAPTER XI

HE was scrubbing blindly at the same glass when, a quarter of an hour later, Blinky Lockwood strode into the store, his right eye twitching more violently than usual, as it always does in his phases of mental disturbance—as when, for instance, he fears he's going to lose a dollar.

Lockwood is that type of man who was born to grow rich.

In person he is as beautiful as a snake fence, as alluring as a stone wall. Something over six feet in height, he walks with a stoop, one hand always in a trousers pocket jingling silver, that materially detracts from his stature. His face, like his figure, is gaunt and lanky, his nose an emaciated beak. His mouth illustrates his attitude toward property—is a trap from which nothing of value ever escapes. His eyes are small and hard and set close together under lowering brows. He's grizzled, with hair not actually white, but gray as the fro from which his heart was fashioned. Aside from these characteristics, his principal peculiarity is a nervous twitching of the right eye which has earned him his sobriquet of Blinky. Legrand Gunn said he contracted the affliction through squinting at the silver dollar to make sure none of its milling had been worn off. I have never known the man to wear anything but a rusty old frock coat, black, of course, and black and shiny broad-cloth trousers, with a hat that has always a coating of dust so thick that it seems a mottled gray.

"I'M AFRAID NOT," SHE SAID.

He grunts his words, a grunt to each. He grunted at Betty when he saw her.

"Where's your father?"

She put down her glass and dish rag.

"I don't know, sir."

"Don't know, eh?" he asked in an indescribably offensive tone.

"I think he went to the bank to see you."

"Oh, he did, eh? Did he have anything for me?"

The girl took up another glass. "I don't know, sir," she said wearily.

"I'm afraid not."

"Well, if he didn't there's no use seeing me. It won't do him any good."

"I guess he knows that," she returned, with a little flash of spirit.

"Does, eh? Well, that's a good thing—saves talk. You don't do no business here, not to speak of, do ye?"

"No, not to speak of."

"Then what's the good of all this foolishness, fixin' up?"

"I don't know."

"Costs money, don't it?"

"I guess so."

"And that money belongs to me."

"It's Mr. Duncan's doing. Father ain't paying for it. He can't."

"What's he doin' then? Sittin' round foolin' with his inventions, ain't he?"

"Yes."

"What's he inventin' now?"

"I don't know much about it." She pointed to the model beneath the window. "That's the last thing, I guess."

Blinky snorted and stamped over to the window, stooping to peer at the machine. "What's the good of that?" he demanded, disdainful, and without waiting for her response went on nagging. "Foolishness! That's what it is. Why don't you tell him not to waste his time this way?"

"Because he likes it," said Betty hopelessly. "It's the only thing that makes life worth while to him. So I let him alone."

"What difference does that make? It don't bring him in nothin' does it? No, sree, it don't. What does he do with them things?"

"Patents them."

"And then what?"

"Nothin' that I know of."

"That's it—nothin' nor ever will. Well, he's been gettin' money from me for those patents. I thought at

What Does CHRISTMAS Mean to You, Anyway?

Isn't it a time when there is a general expanding of good feeling, a closer knitting of the bonds of loyalty, friendship and love, of a general seeking of material expression of this regard of one for another that is the outcome of what custom? Yes, and something more; something that has become a part of all of us, a common heritage that has come down with the centuries, that was born with the birth of a star and a babe; a story that came out of the East whence so much of mystery has come and where so much yet unknown has its habitat.

It is indispensable that such an event should become commercialized. The mementoes, remembrances and gifts so widely exchanged at this time must be purveyed in great quantities and be conveniently placed for distribution.

This store is in a position, with the immense stocks carried to give a wide range of selections in good and useful gifts. Gifts that are worth something and are appreciated by the receiver.

We are and have been for some time reserving Christmas selections. It is a good time to make them while the lines are full.

"Well, I want to see him, and I want to see him before noon," he snapped. "I'm goin' over to the bank, an' if he knows what's good for him he'll come there pretty darn quick."

He swung on one heel and slouched out as Betty turned to go upstairs.

Final Clearance Sale Prices go on All Trimmed Hats, Shapes and Trimmings

November Hats at January Prices

Come in and see what a large stock of stylish millinery we have on hand and you will not ask an explanation for all these low prices. It's a mistake on the part of our buyer who is not located here. He anticipated our needs, judging from the amount of business we had transacted in the early part of the season, and seized the opportunity to purchase the entire showing of Model Hats from one of the largest wholesale millinery houses in the United States. We can't keep these beautiful hats, and there is only one thing left to do—SELL THEM AT COST AND LESS. We enjoyed an immense trade in the early part of the season and are willing to give our customers an opportunity to purchase the second hat at rock bottom prices in order to clear the house for invoicing time.

Everything Goes at Cost and Less Beginning Today

Remember, all the extremely fashionable hats and our immense stock of trimmings are now on sale. A glance at the hats and our telling the reduced prices will amaze you.

THE GRASSHOPPER AND THE ANT.

(Revised Version.)
An ant met a hopper on the road—
All frosty was the way;
"Pass on," said the ant; "do not unload
Your tale of woe today;
Don't tell me how you've tried in vain
To save a winter's store;
Your hard luck yarn gives me a pain—
It goes with me no more.

"You've rioted all season long—
You scamp, deny it not—
I've heard your music rising strong
When summer days were hot;

You've failed to garner when you might,
And saved not when you ought;
Pass on, and die this very night—
For wasters I have naught."
"Good friend, you err," the hopper said;
"Fall finds me not distressed;
I've food in plenty, tabloided,
In pockets of my vest;
At silken garments that I wear
Let envy fill your lamps;
I've wealth, and ne'er a carking care—
I picked the baseball champs!"

THE CAUSE OF COLDS.

Good Advice Regarding the Prevention of Coughs and Colds.

If people would only fortify and strengthen the system, the majority of cases of coughs, colds and pneumonia might be avoided. These troubles are frequently due to weakness, which produces a catarrhal condition of the mucous membrane, which is an internal skin of the body. When this skin is weakened it becomes easily infected with germs which cause many of the diseases to which flesh is heir. Healthy mucous membranes are essential safeguards of the body's general health.

We have a remedy which we honestly believe to be unsurpassed in excellence for the prevention of coughs, colds and all catarrhal conditions. It is the prescription of a famous physician, who has an enviable reputation of thirty years of cures gained through the use of this formula. We promise to make no charge for the medicine should it fail to do as we claim. We urge everybody who has need of such a medicine to try Rexall Mucu-Tone.

It stands to reason that we could not afford to make such statements and give our own personal guarantee to this remedy if we were not prepared to prove the reasonableness of our claim in every particular, and we see no reason why any one should hesitate to accept our offer and try it. We have two sizes of Rexall Mucu-Tone, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Sometimes a 50-cent bottle is sufficient to give marked relief. As a general thing the most chronic case is relieved with an average of three large bottles. You can obtain Rexall Remedies in Maryville only at our store—the Rexall store. The Orear-Henry Drug Co.

AMBITIONS.

To be rich is a worthy ambition.
If by riches you mean more than gold.
If of friends who are true, 'tis your mission
To have a great store when you're old.
To be rich in the smiles and embraces
Of loved ones who come to caress.
To be rich in the bright, happy faces
Around you—yes, this is success.

To be great is a noble endeavor.
If greatness shall spring from the heart.
To be kind, though you may not be clever,
To be true to yourself and your art.
To be great in your love for another,
And just in the views you express.
To speak only good of another—
Is greatness and also success.

To be famous is worthy, if only
You strive to be famous for this:
A friend of the poor and the lonely,
Serene, though great honors you miss.
To be famous for words you have spoken
Or cheer to a soul in distress;
To be famous for vows never broken—
This constitutes fame and success.
—Detroit Free Press.

FALLING HAIR.

Easy to Stop It and Make It Lustrous and Beautiful.

If your hair is falling out; if you have dull unattractive hair, or if you need a daily hair dressing, read what Mrs. Hettie Hodgeman of Nelsonville, Erie county, Ohio, writes June 3, 1910, about Parisian Sage:
"I used Parisian Sage for falling hair and find it the finest thing I ever heard of. My hair was falling out by combs full, and I could run my fingers through it and they would hang full of loose hair. I washed my hair and got a bottle of Parisian Sage and used two applications, and I could see a great difference. My hair was lustrous and nice and had almost stopped falling out, and by the use of one more bottle it stopped altogether."
For women, for men or for children Parisian Sage is without any doubt the finest preparation for the hair. It is guaranteed by the Koch pharmacy to stop hair from falling; to eradicate dandruff and stop itching scalp in two weeks, or money back. It is a most daintily perfumed and refreshing hair dressing, free from grease or stickiness, and ought to be in every home where every member of the family could use it daily. Large bottle 50 cents at the Koch pharmacy and druggists everywhere. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package.
